In particular, the present invention relates to an inspection method for an object to be inspected having a stacked structure, and also to an inspection apparatus for an object to be inspected, and further to a method for fabricating an article and also to an apparatus for fabricating an article. 2. Description of the Related Art A semiconductor wafer, an LCD substrate and the like are fabricated in the following manner. Semiconductor wafers, LCD substrates and the like are supplied in the form of a multi-layered structure (hereinafter referred to as an article) in which a plurality of layers (hereinafter referred to as a stacked structure) including different layers (e.g., film layers, such as a polycrystalline silicon layer, an oxide layer, a nitride layer and a metal layer, and also electronic parts, such as transistors, diodes and interconnections, and the like) are successively stacked on a surface of a flat plate of, for example, a semiconductor substrate or an insulating substrate, and such a plurality of articles are stacked in a container (e.g., a container made of quartz). Then, the containers (e.g., quartz containers) in which the articles are stacked are transferred in the form of a matrix of a plurality of rows and a plurality of columns to be accommodated in a transfer container (e.g., a transfer container made of quartz) in an inspection/fabricating apparatus. In the inspection/fabricating apparatus, the stacked article accommodated in each container is transferred to and accommodated in an inspection/fabricating apparatus, and the stacked articles accommodated in the corresponding containers (e.g., transfer containers) are inspected. The stacked articles accommodated in the corresponding containers are then transferred to a fabrication chamber in the fabricating apparatus, and the stacked articles are processed one by one. The company is currently using the Sentinel Premium system from Navteq, and it has said that any decision to use Go Auto will need to be a joint decision between the two firms. Astra Italia is looking at Go Auto as a potential new player in the automotive insurance industry which will provide the insurer with additional data such as reported traffic information and events such as traffic incidents. According to Go Auto, there are currently 850 million auto insurance policies in the United States. The company says that in the same year, there were 32 billion miles driven. Around one million crashes occur per year. The company claims that car crashes in the United States cost $241 billion per year. "With car insurance, the economy has been hit hard in the past year," said Skye Acquaye, vice-president of public policy for Go Auto. "The crash rates are higher now than they have been in years and auto insurance is more expensive than ever. "We have developed the Go Auto system to help insurance companies better understand the driving behavior of their customers so they can tailor safer policies that actually work." Go Auto focuses on providing information and services that will make auto insurance and driver behavior easier and less expensive to understand. The system uses the location of the car on a smartphone to give the driver relevant information about the environment around their car including hazards such as obstacles on the road, traffic volumes and speed, and accidents that have happened in that area. Mark Rosenblatt, vice president of product development for Go Auto, says the system shows drivers how to avoid unsafe behavior, how to deal with other drivers and when to be 0cc13bf012
