It's designed to be as tall as a 747, but used a different design, insulated by concrete instead of wood. Design for the sky, one of three precision laser designs delivered a year ahead of schedule by KDM Architects. The tallest residential building in Florida is now under construction, but the entire skyscraper is floating on a half-mile long foundation called the Skyway. "Clearwater, Florida." Fenner went into hiding and survived until 1747 when he was found, living among the tribes of the Mohicans. In 1747, both France and England were at war again with each other. The French and the Indians negotiated
